

Brando isn't your usual PR agency.

Of course PR is at the heart of everything we do, but we tailor-make campaigns to your needs using a blend of techniques – from traditional media relations and marketing-led promotions to media-rich brand experiences.

With the opportunity to explore a PR brief, we can create a unique and engaging campaign. We believe that by creating live experiences that connect with the consumer, you ultimately develop more lasting relationships. We call it Brand Bonding – public relations that cuts through the noise.
